The 4-Way Test

of things we do and say:

1. Is it the TRUTH?
2. Is it FAIR to all concerned?
3. Will it build GOODWILL and BETTER FRIENDSHIPS?
4. Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned?

LILY STORM, a native of Guyana South America is the second of 4 siblings. Her chance in life came when she relocated to the United States and received her Bachelor of Science Degree in Business Administration from City University in New Jersey.

Lily, a long-time resident of Winter Garden, began her career working for the City of Cleveland, Division of Water, then relocated to Orlando where she worked for the Florida Department of Revenue, Orange County Environmental Protection and Orange County Code Enforcement.

A first-time author of A Never Forgotten Journey, An Immigrant Story, Lily hopes to use her mother’s journey to educate people about the injustices and sufferings women face daily all over the world.

Her truest intention is to show how one woman from a seemingly hopeless environment used common sense and inner strength to overcome the challenges of her archaic norms and traditions.

Lily says, “you never know how strong you are until you’re put to the test. We are all beings in this life and in this fight together. Let us never forget our connection and responsibility to one another.”

MESSAGE FROM OUR PRESIDENT

Greetings Windermere Rotary Family

It is my pleasure to serve as your 2021-2022 President.

May is Rotary Youth Services Month and Youth Services is something near and dear to our hearts. The benefits of the program and our efforts are best told by the participants. Our young friend “Manny” Acosta said this about his experience in the Rotary Interact (short for international action) program.

“Interact was an important part of my high school experience. It allowed me many opportunities to serve the community and build friendships with my peers through selfless service. Through Interact I was afforded the opportunity to attend and eventually lead camp RYLA (Rotary Youth Leadership Awards). Camp RYLA for many kids is an opportunity to improve and hone their leadership skills through various activities such as public speaking and speech competitions. RYLA also offered intellectual stimulation through a work shop on Sean Covey’s book “The 7 Habits of A Highly Effective Teen” where students were taught various time management and relationship building skills. Teamwork and trust were built during activities such as the ropes course and the canoe class. Camp RYLA is an overwhelmingly positive experience for everyone who attends and for many it is the highlight of their high school experience. I was blessed to be a part of it.” Louis Manuel “Manny” Acosta

“My RYLA experience was one of the most unforgettable times of my life. It's was a fun and great learning experience for me. I was able to build and make many friendships that I still talk to even as of now. The physical and mental challenges were good for me and the other campers in making us better leaders. My team and I were able to create, plan, and execute many projects together in a span of 4 days. I still use the knowledge I have gained from RYLA to this day such as memory mnemonics, communication techniques, and productivity hacks. I found my experience invaluable and I want to thank Rotary for sponsoring to go.” Spencer Saintfleur

Others report similar experiences at RYLA. Manny’s dad, Louis, became a Rotarian while Manny was in Interact. Spencer was in Interact for four years, VP his senior year, a volunteer at many Windermere events throughout that time, has been a loyal member of our club since 2018, and is a Paul Harris Fellow.

We support Interact clubs at Olympia and West Orange, sponsor kids to RYLA, and provide scholarships at Olympia and West Orange High Schools. We conduct Four-Way Test Essays programs at Edgewood Ranch and at Thornebrooke and Windermere Elementary Schools. We have supported Youth Exchange in the past and include Rotaract involvement in our strategic goals. We can do more.

Yours in Rotary Service - Frank

LATEST NEWS (Dr. Megan Ranney)

There's an old adage in public health about a village by a river. Every few days, the story goes, villagers hear cries for help coming from the river and pull out people who are drowning. This cycle repeats itself, over and over. The village builds floats; it trains search and rescue teams. But as time passes, people continue to drown, and it feels like an impossible battle to win. Some people in the village start to say, "We should just let them drown." Arguments ensue, until one day they realize the drowning people are all coming from rapids upstream. When villagers put up a sign warning boaters about the rapids, boats stop capsizing — and drowning passengers stop drifting down into the village.

Today, as we suffer through yet another Covid-19 variant surge, I wonder why we are still merely saving the drowning people, instead of also looking upstream.

But even if we're heading toward an endemic world, we're still thinking small when we should be thinking big. Here we are, a year later, still insisting that this is just a one-time surge and that the water will somehow stop flowing downstream. So, now is the time to plan.

Latest News

Countries are beginning to offer a fourth dose of the Covid-19 vaccine to vulnerable groups, but medical professionals are undecided on whether it would benefit the wider population.

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration has so far authorized a fourth shot only for those aged 50 and above, as well as those who are immunocompromised. And the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention was skeptical of the need for a fourth dose for healthy adults in the absence of a clearer public health strategy.

Those decisions came as a study from Israel found that although a fourth dose of the Pfizer-BioNTech vaccine offers protection against serious illness for at least six weeks after the shot, it provides only short-lived protection against infection, which wanes after just four weeks.

50 Things You Should Know About Rotary

42 - HEALTH, HUNGER AND HUMANITY GRANTS

In 1978, Rotary launched its most comprehensive humanitarian service activity with the Health, Hunger and Humanity Program. The 3-H Program is designed to undertake large-scale service projects beyond the capacity of individual Rotary clubs or groups of clubs.

By 1994, more than 135 different 3-H projects have been approved and undertaken in 49 different countries, with an appropriation at more than $37 million. The objective of these projects is to improve health, alleviate hunger and enhance human, cultural and social development among peoples of the world. The ultimate goal is to advance international understanding, goodwill and peace.

The first 3-H project was the immunization of 6 million children in the Philippines against polio. As 3-H progressed, new programs were added to help people in developing areas of the world. Now, in addition to the mass polio immunization of over 100 million children in various countries, 3-H has promoted nutrition programs, vocational education, and improved irrigation to increase food production, polio victim rehabilitation and other activities which benefit large numbers of people in developing countries. All 3-H projects are supported by the voluntary contributions of Rotarians through The Rotary Foundation. In years to come the 3-H Program may well be considered Rotary's finest service activity, showing how Rotarians care and are concerned about people in need, wherever they may be.
