Windermere Rotary Club

Weekly Roundabout

Quote of the Week: “The Rotary Foundation transforms your gifts into service projects that change lives both close to home and around the world.”

The 4-Way Test of things we do and say:

1. Is it the TRUTH?
2. Is it FAIR to all concerned?
3. Will it build GOODWILL and BETTER FRIENDSHIPS?
4. Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned?

Today’s Program

Candy Cole
Rotary Foundation Chair

Candy Cole is the Executive Director of the Orlando Regional REALTOR® Foundation, the charitable arm of the Orlando Regional REALTOR® Association. Candy is a collaborative leader who works to provide others the support needed to improve quality of life and make the dream of home ownership a reality. At the Foundation she leverages strategic community partnerships and cross-functional teams to improve affordable housing outcomes and address food and housing insecurity issues in Central Florida.

Candy has an MBA from the Crummer Graduate School of Business at Rollins College and a bachelor’s degree in Accounting from the University of Central Florida.

MESSAGE FROM OUR PRESIDENT

Greetings Windermere Rotary Family

It is my pleasure to serve as your 2022-2023 President.

We have a busy Rotary week ahead. Thanks in advance to all who participate.

Tuesday November 8th is election day. Rather than meeting in the Town Hall we'll be meeting at the Family Church in building 4, the church's building closest to the Town Hall. I look forward to seeing you there.

Friday November 11th is Veterans Day. Join us in front of the Town Hall from 7am to 8:30 or 9:00 to greet and thank veterans among the many folks driving through Windermere in the morning.

Monday November 14th is our fundraiser, Golf for Good, at Top Golf, 9295 Universal Boulevard in Orlando from 6 to 9pm. Thanks for selling tickets and coming with your friends and family to this fun event.

What a fun week! See you soon.

Yours in Rotary Service - Jim

LATEST NEWS (Yale Medicine)

Experts continue to work on COVID-19 treatments.

There are also a growing number of treatments that can prevent severe illness from COVID-19, especially in people with underlying health conditions. Some are given intravenously or by injection, while others are available in pill form. So far, the National Institutes of Health has prioritized Paxlovid, which is the first antiviral pill to be given an FDA emergency use authorization (EUA). The drug, which must be started within five days of symptoms, had 89% efficacy in preventing severe illness in infected people in its clinical trial (which included only unvaccinated participants).

Remdesivir was the first and is still the only COVID-19 therapy to get full FDA approval; it was initially used only in hospitalized patients, but the most recent data has shown that it can help outpatients at high risk for severe disease. Yet another medication called Evusheld, a monoclonal antibody, is being used to keep immunocompromised people who do not respond to vaccination from getting sick. It's the first long-acting antibody to receive an EUA for pre-exposure prevention of COVID-19.

Vaccination Update as of November 6, 2022

4 999 505 594 fully vaccinated or 64.3 % Worldwide

227 377 753 fully vaccinated or 69 % US population

14 777 366 fully vaccinated or 67.8 % Florida population

994 376 fully vaccinated or 75.26 % Orange County

What Does Research Say About COVID-19 Boosters?

Boosters are a type of vaccine, and scientists already know that vaccines are currently the best defense against COVID, especially its most serious effects. That's why it's important to get vaccinated right away if you qualify, as most people 12 and older do. Research also has found that:

- In general, antibodies from vaccines decline over time.
- Higher antibody levels from vaccines seem to make the average person less likely to get sick from the coronavirus (vaccine efficacy).
- Booster shots of mRNA coronavirus vaccines (Pfizer and Moderna) increase antibodies by about 10 times.
- Higher levels of antibodies seem to be especially important against the Omicron or Delta variants of the coronavirus. Infections from this variant are surging, and it seems to be more contagious, especially among children.
